

DOS RIOS RANCH AND THE LOWER TUOLUMNE RIVER PARKWAY

Negotiations are under way to purchase the 1,600-acre Dos Rios Ranch at the confluence of the Tuolumne and San Joaquin rivers for conservation, flood control and recreation uses. River Partners and the Tuolumne River Trust are working on the project and hope to turn the property over to a public agency for management. The Lyons family owns the ranch and supports the project.

