BIG GRAFT IN U.S. SHIPPING BOARD IS TOLD OF

Collusion in Purchases and Sales and Sinecures in Organization Says Witness

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Collusion in the purchases and sales for the emergency fleet corporation and the United States shipping board, and sinecures in the organizations, were charged today by John T. Meehan, chief of the shipping board's division of investigation.

Meehan testified before the congressional committee investigating the shipping board work regarding numerous investigations made by him.

One of these resulted, he said, in the discovery that an ex-convict was holding a responsible position under the board, and that he had been in collusion with others in attempts to sell unused lumber at exceedingly low prices. The ex-convict was said to act as agent for a junk dealing firm which wanted the lumber.

Meehan first told of an investigation of Kahn Weiler Sons, builders of lifeboats for the corporation. Kahn Weiler Sons was found to be using inferior paint, he testified, while employees were incompetent in many cases. Out of one lot of 12 boats, eight were rejected and two of the remaining four were found inferior.

On reports from the military intelligence bureau that Kahn Weiler Sons was buying lifeboats from the navy department at $5 each and selling them to the shipping board at $10, Meehan said he had been unable to obtain information from Purchasing Agent William J. Love.

There was one instance, Meehan said, where Kahn Weiler Sons bought a navy life raft for $5 and sold it to the shipping board for $1,000.

The witness offered a letter and other documents purporting to show that Edward A. McCann had been offered a position with the United States shipping board at $6,000 per year. The offer was made, he said, by Captain Yates, managing agent of the division of operations. He said Yates informed McCann that the salary would be paid, but they did not want him around the board's offices. McCann, Meehan said, retained his position until a short time ago.

BANK ROBBED OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Nov. 12.—Four automobile bandits held up the First National Bank at Kingston, ten miles south of here, today, and escaped with four thousand dollars in currency, between $150,000 and $200,000 in stocks and bonds and a quantity of Liberty bonds, the value of which was uncertain, according to reports received here.

The thieves forced the three clerks to enter an inner office, which they locked. They then made a thorough search of the bank and gathered up every bit of money and all the securities in the vault and on the counters. Scores of automobiles, filled with armed citizens and police, are hunting for the bandits.

GIRL IS CHARGED WITH PASSING BAD CHECK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Miss Dorothy Peters, nurse, who recently arrived here from Chicago, and Stanley E. Holmes, also of Chicago, were under arrest today charged with being responsible for the alleged cashing of a $5,500 forged check against the account of Horace D. Pillsbury, prominent San Francisco attorney.

Holmes is charged with having made out the check payable to Miss Peters and the girl is alleged to have cashed it with the aid of a man who has not yet been arrested.

BRITAIN IS AFTER WORLD CONTROL OF OIL SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—British interests who are seeking control of the world's oil supply are making efforts to extend their holdings in both North and South America. It was revealed in official reports made public here today. One official report was that a Mexican oil concession covering 200 miles of the Pacific coast in Lower California had been granted to Alfred MacKenzie, a British subject.

Oil wells are being sunk in Ecuador and oil concessions are being sought in Peru by British Control Oil Field, Ltd., according to official information. This company already has interests in California, Texas, Ecuador, Peru and Venezuela.

TOWN TERRORIZED BY DRUNKEN MEXICAN

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 12.—With Joseph Carmona, a Mexican, locked in the county jail, Flintridge, a little town near here, heaved a sigh and again took on an atmosphere of serenity today after a night marred by the barking of revolvers.

LONG FAST OF IRISH HUNGER STRIKERS ENDED

Sinn Feiners in Cork Prison Decide to Eat Through Intervention of Irish Bishop

DUBLIN, Nov. 12.—The remaining Sinn Fein hunger strikers in prison at Cork today abandoned their fast, according to a dispatch received here from that city. This was the ninety-fifth day of their hunger strike.

There were nine of the hunger strikers left, two having died. Abandonment of the strike was brought about through the intervention of Bishop Cobalan.

The bishop made his successful appeal at the request of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork. The lord mayor had been advised by Arthur Griffith, head of the Sinn Fein, that the men should be asked to break their fast.

Griffith wrote O'Callaghan that the prisoners had demonstrated their willingness to die and should be spared now. It would be a waste to permit the deaths, he said, since Terence MacSwiney had already directed the world's attention to the Irish cause.

The nine were very weak and exceedingly emaciated, and it was believed they would not have survived many hours longer.

The nine strikers are John Hennessy, Michael Burke, Michael O'Ryan, Thomas Donovan, Joseph Kenny, Upton, Power and Murray, and one unknown.

Michael Fitzgerald died October 17 after 68 days of fasting. Joseph Murphy, born in the United States, died October 26, after 75 days without food.

With two of the strikers virtually in collapse, prison physicians had doubt as to whether all the men will recover. In their weakened condition it was believed feeding now will be exceedingly dangerous. Their 95 days of fasting constitutes a record not approached by any authenticated case.

Remarkable Record The record was so remarkable that throughout the time the men have been confined in the Cork jail there have been rumors of secret feeding. This has always been denied by jail officials and the strikers. The rumors were discredited to some extent when two of the men died.

The men were confined in separate cells, all opening into a common corridor. Down this corridor the nurse who nursed the prisoners passed from one cell to the other. The prisoners were described as greatly emaciated and barely strong enough to whisper their needs to the nurses.

DON PEDRO BOND SALE WILL BE HELD DEC. 14

Over $3,000,000 worth of Don Pedro bonds will be offered for sale by the Modesto and Turlock irrigation districts here at two o'clock on the afternoon of December 14, it was announced here today by Secretary Charles Abbott of the Modesto district.

PSYCHO-ANALYSIS FIGURES IN BIG DAMAGE SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—Dreams and psycho-analysis are to figure prominently in a $15,000 damage suit brought by Edward H. Hurray against Dr. Louise O. Unger, it was indicated by a deposition filed in the superior court here today by the defendant.

Murray declares she exercised an improper influence over him and caused his arrest on a charge of insanity.

Dr. Unger, a psycho-analyst, recites in her deposition that she treated him for ineffectiveness by psycho-analysis, one of her methods being to cause the patient to dream, then relate the dream which she analyzes psychologically. She denies she used hypnotism.

She states she caused his arrest because he annoyed her by sending her flowers and gifts, placing letters under her door and peeping through windows.

FIFTY BURGLARIES BY ONE GANG IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—At least fifty burglaries recently committed in and near Los Angeles have been solved, authorities declared today, by a complete confession by one of four men held in the county jail here.

The prisoners gave the names of Frank Blake, John Dempsey, Jack Gaynor and Mike Dressler. Blake is reported to have confessed and Gaynor is said to have corroborated his statement.

A surprising feature was the alleged assertion by Blake that none of the quarter ever used a revolver or other weapon in their long list of crimes. They were arrested early today by deputy sheriffs.

WATER FIGHTS Capt. A. Peterson's team won straight water battle over Capt. Jesse Wallace's team: $100 Capt. Jesse Wallace's team won platform fight over Capt. William Parke's team

Modesto yesterday celebrated her Golden Jubilee, the fiftieth anniversary of the city's founding, and also the second anniversary of the signing of the armistice in Europe, with between 20,000 and 25,000 guests.

It was the greatest gala event that Modesto ever staged. The city did a big thing in a big way. That was the verdict of the throngs who came, saw and were astonished by the magnitude, uniqueness, excellence and variety of the program.

For the occasion Modesto was decorated in her best bib and tucker. Evergreen festoons draped alongside the principal downtown streets and merging into pinnacles domes over the intersections, all heightened by American flags and studded with vari-colored pendant tassels, gave an effect at once pleasing and gala.

Court House Square Besides, every business house downtown was decorated artistically and in harmony with a general scheme. Show windows were also appropriately dressed and in keeping with the spirit of the holiday celebration.

Court House square was a sylvan spot of beauty. What with nature's natural autumn hues that ran the chromatic gamut, there were flags and pennants and bunting of all nations throughout the grove. Valley breezes and the throngs made this ensemble a vibrant, living picture.

Despite the lowering clouds in the early morning, the sun finally worked itself out into the open and shone with accentuated brightness intermittently, as the forenoon advanced. It looked as if the day was going to be propitious, despite the threatening skies.

Modesto is Mecca Crowds began coming to Modesto as early as 7 o'clock, despite the crowding skies that hung over from the day before. They kept coming as the day moved into forenoon. They came in automobiles, on trains, horse-drawn vehicles—men, women and children. They came about, too Modesto was the Mecca. And Modesto received the guests with open arms, greeted them with smiles of warmth and surprised them with her finery.

MILLION HALF MEN NOW IDLE IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

In Great Britain Alone 200,000 Men Are Drawing Unemployment Pay From Govt.

By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Nov. 12.—Strikes and slackened business in Europe has left 1,500,000 workers idle.

Exact figures were not available today, but the British labor ministry put the number of unemployed at a million and a half as a conservative estimate.

In Great Britain there are 200,000 men drawing unemployment pay from the government, but there are tens of thousands more who have not benefited by the payments.

Thus far there has been no sufferings. Weather has been mild. At the same time there is worry over prospects for the winter. The government has urged unions to admit unskilled labor to their ranks, especially in the building trades which the government plans to use this winter in the construction of buildings.

Later estimates of unemployment in Great Britain were placed at 400,000.

Germany's idle army is estimated at 400,000. Of these many are receiving government rations. Strikes have been frequent in Germany, but much of the unemployment has been involuntary.

France has about 200,000 unemployed. There are no statistics from Italy, Austria and Central Europe, but conditions were known to be bad there. Italy has been pined upon by Bolsheviki and anarchists. The government is now planning on giving labor a voice in the control of industry and this is expected to end much discontent. Prices are advancing in Italy and the government has just announced new taxes with a rise in the price of bread and other staples.

The Scandinavian countries have less unemployment than any other part of Europe. The average there was believed only two per cent of the labor population.

Reports to the mayor's office were to the effect that high rents and the influx of tourists from the East are forcing many persons to sleep in downtown offices.

MIRACLE BABY OF LOS ANGELES IS A WONDER

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—Edward Roche Hardy, clubby 12-year-old Columbia university (New York) student, who speaks seven languages, had better look to his laurels. Los Angeles has a 412-year-old boy, weighing but 45 pounds, who is no intellectual pigmy.

Ezra Rachlin, son of Herman Rachlin, is the tiny prodigy who is attracting wide attention here by his mental attainments.

Ezra is a philosopher, a confirmed misogynist, speaks three languages and delights in poetry and rationalistic treatises. In his lighter moments, Ezra plays mamma's piano or renders tunes on the violin that are not hard to listen to. His musical studies began when he was but two.

The infant genius speaks Yiddish, Russian and English with surprising fluency.

But without the "miracle baby" lives a simple life—quite like other little boys, says his mother, Ella Rachlin, who is a well known pianiste.

But Ezra is unlike most other small-or big-boys in one respect. He dislikes little girls. "They're so giddy and silly," he explains.

GREAT SHORTAGE OF HOMES IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—A "Sleep-in-your-office" movement, threatening to sweep the community on account of the housing shortage, is perturbing the city morals efficiency committee not a little, it was reported today.

Reports to the mayor's office were to the effect that high rents and the influx of tourists from the East are forcing many persons to sleep in downtown offices.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 12.—There is a shortage of 35,000 homes in Iowa today. E. H. Sands, state housing commissioner, told the senate subcommittee on reconstruction, which met here to inquire into the exact status of the housing situation in Iowa.

In 1910, San informed the committee, it was estimated there were 498,943 homes in Iowa for 512,515 families. This represented, he said, an average of 103 families for every 100 homes.

Home building increased but little since that time, Sands declared, adding practically 90 per cent of the state's total of new homes having been constructed in Des Moines.

This afternoon the committee will hear representatives from a dozen or more other Iowa cities on housing conditions in their communities.

The committee leaves for Kansas City tonight, where it will resume hearings Saturday.

JAPS OPERATE BIG BRANDY STILL IN SAN JOAQUIN

STOCKTON, Nov. 12.—The largest distillery thus far raided in the drive against illicit liquor traffickers in San Joaquin county is said to have been conducted by I. Sato and K. Suzuki, Japanese, near Acampo. Sheriff Reicks and deputies seized approximately $6,000 worth of brandy and confiscated the plant, valued at $2,000. The plant had been turning out about 100 gallons every 24 hours. Reicks claims the Japs were very anxious to settle the matter, one of them presenting a checkbook and telling him to write in the figures.

SUES FARMER-LABOR PARTY

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 12.—Suit against the farmer-labor party of King county for $646.98, claimed to be the balance due on a bill for services rendered, was instituted in superior court today by Louis E. Bradley. Bradley says he worked for the party for $200 a month between April 26 and August 30, 1920, and that only $173 has been paid him.

EDISON GETS MEDAL

ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 12.—Thomas A. Edison has received a distinguished service medal for service on the naval board, his secretary said today.

Parade Moves It was 10 o'clock when the public signal for the pageant parade to move sounded. There was a combination of din—municipal siren, industrial, railroad and other whistles.

Modesto's History Then followed the historical career of Modesto and Stanislaus county. It began with the Indians, the Red Men of Modesto, Lodi and Stockton furnishing the aborigines, headed by the big chief that dominated Stanislaus in the primitive days. Estanislao Cipriano, Stanislaus county took its name from this chief. Other episodes followed in this order: First Episode Float—Mining at La Grange. Float—Bret Harte Characters. Float—Signing of Treaty with Indians. Second Episode "The Country Settles." Being the various stages of agricultural development of Stanislaus county. Third Episode Float—Modesto in 1870. Float—Goddess of Grain. Modesto's sister town of Stanislaus (Continued from Page One)

GREAT CROWD SEES NUMEROUS EVENTS OF MODESTO CELEBRATION

came next with floats. Waterford symbolized grain with a cornucopia; Turlock had a big slice of watermelon that was unique; Oakdale had a fine float representing the oil industry with a big derrick; Empire had a cornucopia of products. Riverbank, Hughson and Ceres were represented appropriately. Hughson sent fifteen auto-loads of people for the line. And there were the Modesto Irrigation district's float, showing the "Magic Wand of Water" on the land and the Victory float closed the first division.

Fraternal Division

The second division was headed by the Stockton Legion band followed by Mayor George J. Ulrich, city officials and county officials. The fraternal bodies came next in the following order with a good showing: The Odd Fellows had the honor of the presence of their distinguished grand master of California, K. C. Keene of Suisun, who came here to join in the big demonstration. He rode in George Perley's auto with pioneer Odd Fellows, Woodmen of the World, Rebekahs, W. R. C. Odd Fellows, Elks, K. of P., Moose, Native Daughters, Knights of Columbus, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Woman's Improvement club, Y. M. C. A., city and county W. C. T. U. float was one of the prettiest in line. It was a pure white globe, indicating that the union expected in time to make this a dry world.

Commercial Floats

This division was one of the most varied in the parade. It was headed by Modesto band. Among the floats were three with beautiful Holstein prize animals, typifying one of the biggest industries in the county—dairying. It was the offering of the Stanislaus County Holstein Breeders' association.

Freeman & Edwards showed Bell Faskie De Kol Whiteop. She was champion for milk production in 1919, yielding 29,375 pounds, and winner of the American record. On another float was H. E. Cornwell's Cereola Walker, who won first prize at the state fair in 1919-20; first in butterfat for 1920 and grand champion at Stockton and Fresno fairs. Another high-class purebred on still another float was Addie Creamcup Pontiac Burke, belonging to the Six Stammer-Joban herd. She is a heifer and won the junior championship at the Peterson and State fairs, 1920; state champion calf heifer.

The Stanislaus County Jersey Breeders' association also had in a splendid purebred cow. She was one of the blue ribbon cows of this county and has a fine butter record.

Other Floats

The Farm Bureau also had a float in this division; so did the Duroc Jersey Swine Breeders' association, which was represented with a bunch of fine purebreds; Colonel Cy N. Clark had a float of Poland-Chinas, which bred the Colonel announced in large letters, "littered mortgages off the ranches."

Other floats in this division follow: Lamber Remedies, Midway Auto Metal Works, Frances Kiernan Hat Shop (car full of red attired pretty girls); Western Soap Products; Grange Company; J. M. Nightingale; American R. R. Express; Modesto Lumber Company; Ward Lumber Company; English & Young (coffee); Johnston-Wberry Furniture Company; two floats; Ward Furniture Company; P. Latz; Modesto Furniture and Cabinet; Modesto Winter Garden; Modesto Paint & Decorating Company (four); Scott's Millinery Store; Smith's Floral Shop; U. & J. Carburetor (Chas. Rossell); Milk Producers' association; California Co-operative Canneries; Auto Exchange; Turner Hardware Company; Modesto Iron Foundry; Lactein Food; Stanislaus Auto Supplies; Henry Garrison's big threshing and harvesting machines and others.

Automobile Division

The automobile division contained some prettily decorated cars. They were as follows: W. J. Corkery (four machines); C. C. Huxler (one machine); Grant Haskell, R. C. Smith, Turner Hardware (five machines); J. C. Robertson (two machines); Gandy motor Company (two machines); Modesto Garage (three machines); Daisy Garage.

The Modesto Fire Department, with its motor apparatus burnished and in perfect condition brought up the end of the parade. It was headed by Fire Chief George Wallace. This department is considered the most complete and efficient of any in the state or west.

The parade was nearly an hour passing the reviewing stand on I between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. Grand Marshal "Widius" aides were John Moorehead, Dr. C. H. Jones, Alf Davis, C. H. Bertram, leading the several divisions. As the parade wound itself along through Modesto's streets, Harold ("Bud") Coffee flew over the city and did some stunts.

Immediately following the parade the Armistice Day exercises were held on the reviewing stand. Don Maclean, of the American Legion post of Modesto, presided. Rev. Malcolm C. Martin, of the First Presbyterian church, delivered the invocation. Major E. J. Mitchell, of the famous 368th regiment in the late war, was the distinguished speaker of the day. His address was bristling with events of the war and aroused enthusiasm from the large gathering that heard him. Major Walter Garrison, also of the 368th, was distinguished guest at the stand and of the Legion.

Water Fights

Next followed the water fights by the Modesto Fire Department—at I and Tenth streets. A great crowd witnessed the event. Some of them got a good wetting, too.

The team captained by A. Peterson won the water fight against the team captained by Jesse Wallace. This furnished some of the best amusement of the entire program. Outside movie men took 25 feet of this feature to be used in motion picture weeklies throughout the Coast. The prize of $100 in cash was awarded to Captain Peterson's team, which consisted of the following: A. Peterson, captain; E. Sorensen, Mike Stedman, Eugene Haines and Earl Scott. Captain Jesse Wallace's team was composed of William Perke, Clarence Edwards, Floyd Leedom and Jesse Wallace.

The platform water fight was won by Captain Jesse Wallace's team against a team headed by William Parke. The winning team consisted of Clarence Edwards, Leo Johnson, Floyd Leedom, Joe Mitchell, M. A. Lambert and Carroll Downer. Captain Parke's team consisted of Ed Sorensen, A. Peterson, Mike Stedman, Eugene Haines, Earl Scott and Merle Hobron.

California Party Here

The California recruiting party, headed by Commander John H. Blackburn, arrived in Modesto shortly before 3 o'clock in a special train with the dreadnaught's band of 50 pieces. Lieut. Commander Weichel accompanied the party. The band marched through the downtown streets and then gave a concert at the reviewing stand on I street. There Commander Blackburn and Lieut. Commander Weichel spoke of the nation's biggest battleship which is now being equipped at Mare Island and made ready for commission March 1, 1921. Many boys offered themselves as recruits for this ship, which will be manned by California boys solely. Stanislaus county's quota for the crew is eleven. The party spent the night here.

Between 6 and 7 o'clock, after holding back all day, the clouds opened their floodgates and let fall one of the heaviest rains that ever fell here. It lasted only a half hour, however. Then it stopped as if to let the evening's program be carried out. The throngs here was good-natured and took the wet philosophically and went on with their joy. There were fireworks at Eleventh and I streets. In Court House square the California band gave a concert. There was another band concert at Tenth and I streets.

It was the greatest day in the history of Modesto.

MODESTO PAGEANT IS "SHOT" BY MOVIE MEN OF FIVE CONCERNS

As the big parade moved north on Tenth street four moving picture outfits "shot" the pageant for screening throughout the nation. The movie men also snapped a lot of other features of the big day's program. These films will be made up in San Francisco and Los Angeles and Modesto will be made famous in every picture house in the land.

BLUEBLOODED JERSEYS IN MODESTO PAGEANT

The purebred Jersey stock that appeared in the Modesto pageant yesterday belonged to local breeders. "Mamie Owl," the first Jersey in line, was D. P. Conant's. She has a record of 45 pounds of butterfat for a year. "Ila Venadera" was the next Jersey on a float. She belonged to Guy Miller and as a two-year-old had a record of 219 pounds of butterfat. Mr. Miller also had a two weeks' old calf on one of the floats. The pretty milk maid was Miss Myrtle Hayworth, daughter of Charles Hayworth of Wood Colony.

TURLOCK

TURLOCK, Nov. 12.—The Turlock Junior college took advantage of the holiday to hold a party at the home of Dean Martin on East Main street. About thirty-two students were present and enjoyed an evening of clever games and good music. Ernest and Lionel De Silva and Osor Ofook, new students of the college who have just arrived from Hawaii, proved themselves very talented musicians and made the evening doubly pleasant with their Hawaiian music. At a late hour refreshments were served to the guests.

Quite a crowd of sophomores attended the "hard time" party given in Fraternal hall. They all came dressed in costume and passed a pleasant evening in games and stunts. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served and the students departed for their homes declaring the party the best in many a day. Quite a crowd of Turlock people motored to Modesto yesterday to attend the big celebration.
